The European Enterprise Alliance welcomes the Alliance of Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (AIM) as a new Member.

On the 22nd of December, the EEA welcomed the Alliance of Small and Medium-sized Enterprises from Moldova (AIM) as its newest member.

Alliance of Small and Medium-sized Enterprises is a non-governmental, membership-based business association. AIM's members are small & medium-sized businesses working in the Republic of Moldova towards developing a transparent and understandable business-legal environment to promote economic growth and investment in the Republic of Moldova. Its members work together as allies through networking, resourcing, advocacy, and other initiatives to encourage and protect development through sharing common principles.

Marcin Nowacki, President of the European Enterprise Alliance: "I am delighted to welcome AIM as our member. Together, we can work to enlarge the European Union and bring the regions closer."

David Smith, AIM President, said, "Our mission is to advance and protect the general welfare and prosperity of small & medium-sized businesses and those doing business with small businesses in the Republic of Moldova. We believe that our Membership in the EEA will allow us to further these goals and strengthen our relations with European partners."

Damir Filipovic, Secretary-General of the European Enterprise Alliance, highlighted that "having AIM among our Members will allow us to build stronger Eastern Partnership initiative and establish meaningful relations with our business partners in the region."
