About the event:

The Omnibus I Simplification Package marks an important step for boosting competitiveness and reducing administrative burdens for businesses in Europe. By raising the thresholds for reporting and due diligence requirements so that only the largest of enterprises are affected while simultaneously working to ensure smaller companies are protected from trickle down obligations, Omnibus I promises to save companies from countless Euros and man hours spent on superfluous administration.

This expert roundtable will explore the practical implications of Omnibus I, as leaders of industry and key policymakers will discuss the nature of the changes within the package. Speakers will outline the next steps in the implementation process, unpack the implications for day-to-day compliance, and clarify how companies can prepare to take advantage of a more streamlined regulatory framework. The discussion will highlight why Omnibus I represents a constructive step forward for Europe's economic landscape and a particularly positive development for Europe's business community.
